
SUCCESSFUL RANES.

One Brother a Professor, Another a Millionaire's Protege.

MORE LAKE BREEZES.

And Visitors Are Still Flocking to Whitmore Lake.

The Funeral Services of the Late Francis M. Lumbard Were Largely Attended. — Many Visited Island Lake.

Whitmore Lake, July 27. — (Special to Daily Argus). — Lake House Ar-

The funeral of the late Francis M. Lumbard was very largely attended today, his old acquaintances for miles around turned out to pay their last respects. For 32 years the deceased lived here and everybody knew him. There was a great profusion of flowers and a choir of eight sang some of Mr. Lumbard's favorite pieces. The Rev. Pierce paid a glowing tribute to him and spiritually consoled the bereaved family. His remains were buried at Brighton Plains, where rests the body of his first wife.

The Daily Argus

Ann Arbor, MI

Friday, July 28, 1899

Page 2, Column 2