*Miss Dean Lombard Wed
Mr. Francis Lemon
Brown Last Evening;
Two Teas for Mrs.
Howes.*

MISS DEAN LOMBARD, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Lombard, became the bride of Mr. Francis Lemon Brown, son of Mrs. William Munsil, of Yakima, last evening in the Prospect Congregational church at 8:30 o'clock.

The bride, gowned in pearl-beaded net made over softest Georgette, with a court train of glimmering satin, over which the tulle veil, caught to her brow with Duchesse lace and orange blossoms, fell, was preceded by a colorful procession of charmingly gowned maids.

Each group of two were gowned in the same iridescent shade. Miss Ruth Bamford and Miss Grace Epperson leading, in silver blue taffeta; Miss Grace Lowe of Mount Vernon and Miss Dorothy Conger, next, in sea-green; then Miss Elizabeth Kerr and Miss Adele Thompson of Enumclaw in orchid.

Each of the eight wore a wreath gracefully wrought of silver leaves in her hair and silver slippers.

Miss Florence Lombard, sister of the bride, and maid of honor, wore taffeta in pink. All carried sweet peas in shades corresponding to the gowns.

The bride's bouquet was of the faintest pink tinted Ophelia roses with orchids, lilies of the valley and from the fluttering shower ribbons, Cecil Brunner rosebuds.

Miss Elizabeth Case, a cousin of the bride, was flower girl, and in that capacity scattered sweet pea petals before the bridal party. She wore a smart little frock of strawberry taffeta.

Berry (partially visible).
Mr. Charles Harris was best man. Ushering were the Messrs. Julian Matthews, Harry Patrick, Alfred Rody, W. R. Ketcham, Milo Wilcox and Capt. Alfred E. Smith.

Just prior to the ceremony Mrs. R. G. Case, aunt of the bride, sang "O Perfect Love." Miss Marguerite Brown played the wedding processional.

Following the ceremony came the reception at the Lombard home, at which Mrs. E. D. Townsend, Mrs. C. A. Lux, Miss Emily Jennelle, Miss Catherine Shafer, Miss Olive Conger, Miss Evelyn Morse, Miss Elizabeth Nelch, Miss Josephine Jacobson, Miss Ruth Nettleton, Miss Kathleen Parshall and Miss Helen Jordan assisted.

The home, even as the church, was attractively decorated in blossoms of various sorts, all pink in color.

The bride's going away gown was of dark blue canton crepe with a beige, embroidered in blue, blouse. Her all-enveloping cape was of blue duvetyn, lined in beige, and becolored with sable. With it she wore a blue panne velvet hat of snug attractiveness.

After Sept. 15 they will be at home in the Nob Hill apartments in Yakima.
