

OLD-TIME CLUBMAN
HERE WITH HIS BRIDE.

Gay Lombard, a Former Social Favorite Here, Passes Through on His Bridal Tour.

Gay Lombard, who was in former years a well-known figure in the club and social life in San Francisco, has returned here from Portland, where he has been located for some considerable time. With him is his bride of a few days, and they are stopping at the St. Francis, before continuing their honeymoon trip south.

The present Mrs. Lombard was Miss Mary Gertrude Tongue, daughter of the late Thomas H. Tongue, one of Oregon's past Representatives in Congress, and has a large social connection in Portland and in Washington. The marriage was celebrated on Christmas day at the First Congregational Church of Portland, Rev. D. L. House officiating.

Mr. Lombard now has large business interests in the Northwest, and intends building a home in Portland and making that city his place of permanent residence. He is president of the First National Bank, Pullman, Wash.; Lombard Company's Bank, Tekoa, Wash., and the Pacific Grain Company, Portland.

Mr. Lombard was formerly the husband of Miss Clara Belle Douglass, whom he married after a romantic courtship, ending in an elopement. The final decree of divorce was recently granted by Judge Hebbard.

San Francisco Chronicle

December 29, 1904